

Work Experience 14th – 25th November

By Kirstin Patterson

For the last two weeks transition year students have been away on work experience. We had a few classes on the topic so we would know both what to expect and how to act in our place of work. Most of us went to a different work place each week but others stayed in the same placement for both weeks.

Everybody feels they learned something while on work experience and it was very beneficial to all of us. Some girls learned new skills they will use and take with them for the remainder of their lives, others simply confirmed their ideas of where they wanted to work. Some of us even changed our minds completely and after wanting to do a certain job for months/years now have decided it isn't for us.

I think we all understand the world of work much more now that we have experienced it for ourselves and we are all very grateful to both the school and our employers for giving us this chance.
